

ASSIGNMENT

SUBJECT - PSYCHOLOGY

CLASS - XII

CHAPTER - 1

LESSON - VARIATIONS IN PSYCHOLOGICAL ATTRIBUTES

1. Define the term assessment. What are the two kinds of assessment? Explain with the help of examples.
2. Explain some of the psychological attributes.
3. Discuss in detail the various assessment methods.
4. Define the term 'intelligence' as given by the following:
 - (i) Wechsler
 - (ii) Binet
 - (iii) Sternberg
5. Differentiate between psychometric approach and information-processing approach.
6. Discuss the five theories of intelligence that follow psychometric approach.
7. Explain the following theories of intelligence that follow information-processing approach:
 - (i) Theory of Multiple Intelligences
 - (ii) Triarchic Theory of Intelligence
 - (iii) PASS Model
8. 'Intelligence is the interplay between nature and nurture.' Discuss.
9. All persons do not have the same intellectual capacity. How do individuals vary in their intellectual ability? Explain.
10. Differentiate among:
 - (i) Verbal, non-verbal and performance tests of intelligence
 - (ii) Group and individual tests
 - (iii) Culture fair and culture biased tests

(iv) Creativity tests and intelligence tests

(v) Aptitude, intelligence and interest

11. Define the term 'mental retardation'. Explain the three characteristics of the definition.

12. How mental retardation is classified and what are the defining features of each category?

13. What are some of the characteristics of gifted children?

14. Are there any cultural differences in the conceptualization of intelligence? Discuss.

15. Define the term 'emotional intelligence'. State the characteristics of an emotionally intelligent individual.

16. Define the term 'aptitude'. What are aptitude tests and their types? Explain them with the help of examples.

17. How is creativity and intelligence related?