READING SECTION

Q1 READ THE PASSAGE CAREFULLY:

Swami Vivekananda once stayed in a small village . Thousands of people came to him and asked him a number of questions. He was so busy with them that he did not get time to eat. No one cared to see if he had his food or rest.

That night when people went away, a poor man came to Viveknanda and said, “ Swamiji, I am pained to see that you are hungry and tired.” Swamiji asked him if he had some food. The poor man had a great desire to give food, but he was a cobbler who repaired shoes and he was afraid. If the King came to know that a cobbler had given food to Swamiji, he would be driven away from the kingdom. Swamiji told him not to be afraid of anything. The cobbler brought bread because his heart was full of love and pity. Swamiji took the bread and ate it. He found that it tasted better than the sweets of the king’s palace.

I ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

1. Why did people go to Swamiji?
2. Who was pained to see Swamiji hungry and tired?
3. What was the cobbler afraid of?
4. Which words show that the cobbler was a kind-hearted man?

Q2 READ THE POEM.

A CHILD'S THOUGHTS

At seven when I go to bed,
I find such pictures in head;
Castles with dragons prowling around,
Gardens with magic fruits are found,
Fair ladies prisoner in a tower,
Or lost in an enchanted bower,
While gallant horsemen ride by streams,
That border all this land of dreams,
I find so, clearly in my head,
At seven when I go to bed.

At seven when I wake again
The magic land I seek in vain,
A chair stands where the castle frowned,
The carpet hides the garden ground,
No fairies trip across the floor,
Boots, and not horsemen, flank the door,
And where the blue streams rippling ran,
Is now a bath and water can,
I seek the magic land in vain,
At seven, when I wake again.

(Robert Louis Stevenson)
